Fidelity Meets Differentiated Instruction: Strategies in Action for ELL's!

Paralyzed! Have you ever attended a session and thought everything you heard was wonderful, but felt “paralyzed” because it did not align with your current school initiative? This session will be an interactive, informative, and fun session full of strategies for use across all content areas. Participants will take away ideas for increasing oral language development and increasing academic achievement without losing the “fidelity” of other school programs. Through hands-on activities, video clips, and discussion, solutions will be explored and documented for meeting the needs of ALL learners!

Dr. Socorro Herrera serves as a professor of Elementary Education at Kansas State University and directs the Center for Intercultural and Multilingual Advocacy (CIMA) in the College of Education. Her K-12 teaching experience includes an emphasis on literacy development. Her research focuses on literacy opportunities with culturally and linguistically diverse students, reading strategies, and teacher preparation for diversity in the classroom. Dr. Herrera has published five books, Mastering ESL and Bilingual Methods: Differentiated Instruction for Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students (2005, 2011), Assessment Accommodations for Classroom Teachers of Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students (2007), Teaching Reading to English Language Learners: Differentiated Literacies (2010), Biography-Driven Culturally Responsive Teaching (2010) and currently in press, Biography-Driven Strategies for Academic Literacy Development. Dr. Herrera has authored articles for numerous nationally known journals such as the Journal of Teaching and Learning, Bilingual Research Journal, Journal of Hispanic Higher Education, Journal of Research in Education, and the Journal of Latinos and Education.
